DANIEL UNGUREANU

I'm a python developer, nature lover, entrepreneur running two businesses, crypto enthusiast and problem solver! Although i have a natural sciences background, tech has always been my thing. I started learning Python, and Django in 2017 and did several projects since, with 2 under going. My aim for the future is to get a developer job, in a professional environment, where i could go to the next level and fill in the "holes" that self teaching inevitably leaves.

EXPERIENCES

Python developer

UNGUREANU WEBTECH

It's my own web development company and although in its infancy, i start getting more and more clients.

Assistant Manager

Fundatia Conservation Carpathia

I learned lots of project management here, but mostly did database maintenance work and used lots of GIS tools for mapping.
